TRY STEP-AHEAD POWER THAT'S FULLY FARM PROVED.

You don't know what you've been missing in modern farm power until you try big differences in a new Farmall tractor. And remember, these money-making, muscle-saving, day-stretching differences are fully farm proven by over 30 million hours of field work.

You can bet that the engines, transmissions, hydraulic systems and other step-ahead advantages of new Farmall tractors will be copied. But only on new Farmalls are these unequalled advantages completely field proved.

We urge you to compare new Farmall tractors with all others—in all ways. Compare power and all-job economy. Compare work-saving features and basic construction. When you finish your feature-by-feature comparison you'll know dozens of reasons why a new Farmall is your best buy.

Herald To Publish Food Contest Entries Weekly

Beginning with this issue The Holmes County Herald will publish articles submitted by Holmes County 4-H Club teen-agers who are entering the nation wide "Food Comes First For Youthpower" contest.

The purpose of this contest, sponsored by the National Food Conference is to focus public attention on better eating habits through numerous newspaper articles, cartoons, editorials, pictures, or feature stories on food related subjects. Contestants must be between the ages 13-19.

Mississippi will send at least two boys and two girls with all expenses paid to the National Food Conference in Chicago March 9-11, 1961. The entries must be in to the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation no later than February 1, 1961.

The Healthy Way To Weigh Less
BY BILLIE FAYE KNOX
Do you need to lose weight? Do you want to lose weight? Well, the only way you can take your belt in is to eat less and exercise more. But, remember no matter how much you huff and puff, you just can't shake it off, rock it off, knock it off, or bake it off. Now you are probably asking yourself this question, "If I am overweight, what should I do to be underweight?" The main thing is to learn and follow the Basic Four food group.

1. The milk group—milk, cheese and ice cream.
2. The meat group—beef, veal, lamb, pork, poultry, eggs and fish.
3. The vegetable and fruit group—fruits and vegetables rich in vitamin A and C.
4. The bread—cereal group whole grain, enriched or restored.

Include foods from each of these groups each day. Unless a person is seriously overweight, he can merely cut down on his daily intake of foods. Exercise helps, too. It will use those extra calories and tone your muscles.

Beware of fad diets and magazine articles to encourage rapid loss of weight. A person should always see his doctor and get his advice before attempting a diet of any kind, especially a strenuous one. In any diet loss of more than one pound a week is not recommended. This is because your body's system must familiarize itself with this change and in so doing your body's resistance to colds and other contagious diseases will be very low.

Let's summarize by saying this: eat well balanced meals but less food, and be aware of food fads.

After you have lost weight and you are tempted again, remember: We don't want to go through this all over again.

Cotton Growers To Vote

Cotton growers will vote December 13, in their annual referendum to determine whether to use a system of marketing quotas for the upcoming crop of upland cotton, Chairman Ethan A. Porter of the Mississippi Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee announced today.

If approved in the referendum, the system of quotas would apply to the 1961 cotton crop. This would be the eighth successive year in which quotas have been in effect for upland cotton.

Upland cotton quotas have been proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture on the basis of an official determination that estimated total supply of cotton for 1960-61 will amount to approximately 21.7 million running bales, or about 3 million bales above normal. The law requires the proclamation of quotas by October 15, in any year when the total supply exceeds normal. Quotas do not take effect, however, unless approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

In announcing the upland cotton program for 1961, Chairman Porter pointed out that only one allotment-price support program will be available to growers for their 1961 cotton crop. Legislation provided the so-called Choice (A) and (B) programs only for 1959 and 1960.

The national cotton allotment for 1961, he said, has been determined at 18,398,424 acres, compared with 16 million acres in 1960. This 1961 national allotment, plus a national reserve of 60,000 acres, will be broken down to States and counties, and individual farm allotments will be made available to producers before the referendum. The 1961 farm allotments as compared to 1960 may vary considerably in the extent to which they reflect the national increase, Mr. Porter said.
